Arrr! Shiver me timbers! Sam, Bobbi, and Rowdy be at it once more, schemin' to snatch me precious treasure. But fear not, me hearties! I've stashed it away safe and sound, and this time, I've brewed up a fresh batch of cunning clues to confound those scallywags. The clues be hidden across the campus, and they be trickier than a cat on a hot tin roof. I be countin' on you clever students to decipher the hints and uncover the bounty.

Alas, I'm in a bind meself, for the UMass Mascots be keepin' a weather eye on me every move like a pack of watchful sea dogs. But fear not, brave treasure hunters, for the thrill of the hunt awaits, and may the cleverest buccaneers prevail!

Avast ye! This be yer first clue to start yer journey:

Not in the field, nor the corridors sealed, Along the pathway, his legacy's revealed.

Amidst the campus, in nature's grace, A plaque resides in an open space. Follow the trail where knowledge is congealed, Find the plaque, where Cressy's honor is revealed.

From now on, I'll have to be more discreet. I cannot risk the others catchin' wind of the whereabouts of me treasure!

'Tis gettin' cold, me hearty! The weather has SHIFTed 18 degrees colder and me treasure has been hidden fer quite some time. The SAIL office hasn't informed me o' the treasure bein' returned, so it must still be out there! I be hopin' a student can get their hands on it before those pesky mascots.

In th' meantime, I be enjoyin' a great CAESAR salad! Tis one o' me favorite meals, arr!

Avast, me maties! Tis time for me to make like a bilge rat and scurry off. Don't ye be tellin' the others about the treasure, savvy? What ye have now should be enough to crack the code and find the booty. Hasten ye, me hearties! Keep in mind, the first two crews to finish will be rewarded with a share of me treasure. Arrrr!
