Arrr! Sam, Bobbi, and Rowdy be at it once more, schemin' to snatch me precious treasure. But fear not, me hearties! I've stashed it away safe and sound, and this time, I've brewed up a fresh batch of cunning clues to confound those scallywags. I be countin' on the clever students to decipher the hints and uncover the treasure.

Alas, I'm in a bind meself, for the UMass Mascots be keepin' a weather eye on me every move like a pack of watchful sea dogs. But fear not, brave treasure hunters, for the thrill of the hunt awaits, and may the cleverest buccaneers prevail!

Avast ye! This be yer first clue to start yer journey:

Not in the field, nor the corridors sealed, Along the pathway, his legacy's revealed.

Amidst the campus, in nature's grace, A plaque resides in an open space.

Follow the trail where knowledge is congealed, Find the plaque, where Cressy's honor is revealed.

From now on, I'll have to be more discreet. I cannot risk the others catchin' wind of the whereabouts of me treasure!

Arrr, me journal,

Today at UMass Dartmouth be like any other, but a whisper o' adventure crossed me ears. Talk of old lockers bein' cleared in the VION ship caught me interest. Passin' locker 102, a chill ran through me bones, like it held secrets.

I be reckonin', I can't be tethered to that locker, but if some brave soul be findin' the courage and the 4-digit combination, I'd wager that locker holds more than mere trinkets. Or perhaps it be naught but the fantasies in me skull.

Arrr, me heart be heavy with memories of me days as a scallywag on this campus. I be rememberin' me favorite places to dock me ship - 4 lots they were! Six, six-a, thirteen, and sixteen. There be somethin' about those lots that always steered me true to where I needed to be.

And in the echoes of me reminiscence, I can almost hear the laughter of me mates as we navigated those lots, swapping tales of triumph and defeat. As I set sail on new horizons, I'll carry the spirit of those lots with me, anchoring me in the memories of days gone by.

I've stumbled upon a treasure, a reader I've become! Me love for murder mysteries be as fierce as a tempest at sea, and one called "Dead Sand" has captured me interest like a siren's song. I couldn't haul me anchor away from its pages! After solvin' its secrets, I returned it to the library, and they stashed it alongside ABC123.4 and DEF 567.8 for future plunderin'. Aye, I reckon I might go back and dive into its depths again!
